this book offers a structured deductive approach to austrian investing beginning with an analysis of the current investing paradigm there are five economic concepts on which the austrian school of economics has a unique view entrepreneurship class probability capital the interest rate and institutions this book explains lesson by lesson how each of theses shapes our thinking about investing if we follow them through their logical consequences they leave us with a unique approach to investing except for the theory of probability there has not been a comprehensive analysis of the linkages between these concepts when it comes to investing although they would have been obvious to the average investor before the age of democracy since the french and american revolutions government interventions have steadily transformed the way we think about them and the way we invest above all entrepreneurship and institutions are downplayed today while investors use case probability and confuse the concepts of money and capital this book offers a historical review of these interventions to shed light on how we went from what was common sense to the status quo offering a sometimes technical analysis the book examines a series of fundamental investment fallacies their origins and how not to fall for them we will focus on the most outstanding technologies for modern electronic music production therefore as in the previous book in which sections made the presentation of the instruments this volume is made up of five of them for reasons of analytical practicality 1 audio recording and playback 2 speakers 3 communication protocols between electronic instruments 4 modern electronic music production 5 djing the first point will clarify how the ability to record sound in an analog mechanism was acquired just a moment ago if we compare that time with human existence therefore since electronic music is intrinsically linked to the technique of sound recording and its playback it is necessary to know about the technologies that have allowed this process since the 19th century subsequently it will be explained what the speakers are and how their role and development in electronic music have been fundamental as has already been elucidated throughout this series it would be practically impossible for electronic music to exist without speakers after that we ll see the two main protocols of communication between electronic instruments midi and osc in addition to expressing my point of view about their transcendence because never in the history of music in its entirety the instruments had managed to sync through messages and time automation codes under the master slave concept understanding the above we will review all those technologies that facilitate modern electronic music production such as a daw sound effects sample manipulation etc finally we will explain the tools that the dj uses to play such as turntables cd players controllers etc since each invention of these five points has its own story i will limit myself to mentioning merely basic details so that the reader can investigate more for his account topic by topic as in the case of this series first and second volumes the purpose is to establish a conceptual axis in which one can have a reference not a detailed encyclopedia of each specific device
