paleo french cuisine by chef alain braux is a beautiful and surprising book a panoply of paleo inspired appetizers entrees and desserts is preceded by a tough love rational conversation about food and industrial culture and our need to make informed and responsible choices it is brimming with simple sensible scrumptious recipes with and without meat drawing from traditions of old world country comfort food while adding to the modernist trend of repurposing known ingredients in amazing ways chef alain braux is acutely aware of the contrary trends in current dietary philosophy paleo is the diet of the alpha the yang the hunter the raw food movement promotes the diet of the receptive yin the vegan the gatherer chef braux sees value in each approach to nourishing ourselves he compares these contrary culinary philosophies from a common sense perspective and creates a cuisine that draws on the best of both worlds all recipes are free of grains and many are also dairy free there is plenty to love here for vegetarians as well as confirmed meat eaters plenty of fully raw recipes as well as sautees and stews tips on shopping and cooking techniques leave little room for confusion and all the while the writing style is so friendly and conversational that you may feel this kindly chef is by your side the recipes are exquisite french names for each dish give a sense of elegance and romance but the ingredients are not exotic the techniques are not complex the hard work has already been done recipes perfected and the artful balance of flavors colors textures tastes and nutrients is effortless as you follow chef braux s instructions the dessert section is simple and splendid each dish light and refreshing i highly recommend this book as the best of a generation this is a keeper thank you chef braux in departing from the traditional stance taken by anthropologists who study others ethnographically this timely book explores forms of self inscription on the part of both the ethnographer and those others who are studied informed by developments in postmodernism postcolonialism and feminism this is an original contribution to the growing dialogue across disciplinary boundaries the chapters build upon recent reconsiderations of the uses and meaning of personal narrative to examine the ways in which selves and social forms are culturally constituted through biographical genres ethnic autobiography self reflexivity in ethnography and native ethnography raise provocative questions about a range of issues for the contemporary scholar authenticity of voice ethnographic authority and the degree to which autoethnography constitutes resistance to hegemonic bodies of discourse examined here in a variety of cultural and political contexts writing about the self offers challenging insights into the construction and transformation of identities and cultural meanings
