this book represents a contribution to both border studies and short story studies in today s world there is ample evidence of the return of borders worldwide as material reality as a concept and as a way of thinking this collection of critical essays focuses on the ways in which the contemporary british short story mirrors questions and engages with border issues in national and individual life at the same time the concept of the border as well as neighbouring notions of liminality and intersectionality is used to illuminate the short story s unique aesthetic potential the first section geopolitics and grievable lives includes chapters that address the various ways in which contemporary stories engage with our newly bordered world and borders within contemporary britain the second section examines how british short stories engage with ethnicity and liminal identities while the third animal encounters and metamorphic bodies focuses on stories concerned with epistemological borders and borderlands of existence and identity taken together the chapters in this volume demonstrate the varied and complex ways in which british short stories in the twenty first century engage with the concept of the border the grievous loss of stanley crouch one of america s most renowned intellectuals is underscored by the posthumous appearance of these remarkable essays with stanley crouch s untimely death in 2020 american literature lost a critic without peer ta nehisi coates born in los angeles in 1945 crouch a towering stylist fearless columnist and without question one of the finest jazz critics of all time was rabelaisian both in stature and in intellectual appetite beloved yet cantankerous crouch delighted and enflamed the passions of his readers in equal measure whether writing about race politics literature or music in these essays some discovered on his computer unpublished until now crouch tackles subjects ranging from malcolm x a thorned bud standing in the shadow of sequoias to the films of quentin tarantino with django tarantino has slipped down into a shallow and bloodstained hip hop turn that his own best work has well refuted introduced by jelani cobb with an afterword by wynton marsalis and collected by his longtime editor glenn mott victory is assured canonizes the legacy of an inimitable indispensable american critic short subject films have a long history in american cinemas these could be anywhere from 2 to 40 minutes long and were used as a filler in a picture show that would include a cartoon a newsreel possibly a serial and a short before launching into the feature film shorts could tackle any topic of interest an unusual travelogue a comedy musical revues sports nature or popular vaudeville acts with the advent of sound on film in the mid to late 1920s makers of earlier silent short subjects began experimenting with the short films using them as a testing ground for the use of sound in feature movies after the second world war and the rising popularity of television short subject films became far too expensive to produce and they had mostly disappeared from the screens by the late 1950s this encyclopedia offers comprehensive listings of american short subject films from the 1920s through the 1950s charles s peirce the founder of pragmatism was also the architect of a remarkable theory of signs that continues to puzzle and inspire philosophers today in this important new book mats bergman articulates a bold new approach to peirce s semeiotic through a reassessment of the role of rhetoric in his work this systematic approach which is offered as an alternative to formalistic accounts of peirce s project shows how general sign theoretical conceptions can plausibly be interpreted as abstractions from everyday communicative experiences and practices building on this fallible ground of rhetoric in use bergman explicates peirce s semeiotic in a way that is conducive to the development of rhetorical inquiry and philosophical criticism following this path the underpinnings of a uniquely peircean philosophy of communication is unearthed a pragmatic conception encased in a normative rhetoric motivated by the continual need to transform and improve our habits of action
